

CONFERENCE WILL MEET AT RALEIGH

Many Social Service Problems to Be Discussed and Considered.

INSPECTION OF TROOPS
Rapid Progress in Building Connecting Links of Northern and Southern.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Raleigh, N. C., February 10.—On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week there will be in session in this city the North Carolina Conference of the Social Service, for which a notable program is announced, and it is expected that there will be citizens from many sections of the State, as well as visitors from other States to participate. Governor Craig will welcome the members of the conference on Tuesday night, and there will be an address on the same evening by Dr. W. L. Potcutt, president of Wake Forest College, on "The Correlation of Social Forces." There will also be a special address Tuesday evening by Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma. On Wednesday morning there will be a conference, during which chairmen of special committees will make five-minute reports on the state of the State, and during the afternoon there will be addresses by Dr. A. A. Kent, of Lenoir, and others, on the problem of the care of the State's feeble-minded, and other social problems. At night the session will be in the hall of the House of Representatives. At this closing session there will be addresses by Rev. M. L. Keeler, on "Orphanage and Dependent Children"; by State Senator J. P. Cook, on "Reformatory and Juvenile Courts"; by J. J. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, on "Literacy"; by W. H. Swift, secretary of the North Carolina Child Labor Commission, on "Child Labor and Factory Conditions"; by Miss Daisy Benson, on "Prisons"; by Dr. L. B. McBrayer, on "Feeble-Minded and Eugeenic"; by Attorney-General T. W. Brickett, on "Legal Medicine and Criminal Procedure"; by Archibald Johnston, on "Liquor Problem"; by Gilbert Stephenson, on "The Negro Problem"; by Dr. J. Howell Way, on "The Problem of Health"; by Clarence Poe, on "The Improvement of Rural Life." The annual inspection of the companies of the North Carolina National Guard begins in Raleigh on Friday of this week. Captain E. L. Langdon, United States Army, being the government inspector. He will be accompanied and assisted by Inspector-General Thomas Stungfellow, of the North Carolina National Guard. Waynesville. The companies of the second infantry will be inspected first, this work being scheduled to require until March 1. When the Rocky Mount company will be inspected, followed by the second infantry. The intermediate dates are Fayetteville, February 17; Lumber Ridge, 18; Dunn, 19; Wilson, 20; Clinton, 21; Goldsboro, 22; Kinston, 23; Raleigh, 24; Washington, 25; Charlotte, 26; Salisbury, 27; and then the first regiment will be inspected, the tour continuing until March 28, with the final inspection at Greensboro. Few people realize with what tremendous energy the work of linking up the short lines of road that are to form the trunk line from Raleigh to Charlotte, for the Raleigh, Charlotte and Southern division of the Norfolk and Southern is being pushed. There is every assurance now that this line will actually be in operation between Raleigh and Charlotte by July 1 of this year, bringing Charlotte and all the vast territory penetrated into far closer touch with the state capital. The distance from Raleigh to Charlotte will be twenty-five miles less by rail, and it will be a direct run without delays for connections. Grading and track-laying forces are scattered all along the route to the extent probably of 3,000 laborers and great numbers of steam shovels and other improved implements. Grading, track-laying and bridge-building forces are pushing the work with wonderful rapidity. It was only a few months ago that E. C. Duncan put through the deal for the purchase of the Raleigh and Southern, and other short lines. The road, being linked up and standardized for this Raleigh, Charlotte and Southern division. Mr. Duncan is taking a keen personal interest in the rushing of this construction work.

More Money for Lynchburg.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, February 10.—Congressman Glass today introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 for the purpose of enlarging the post-office building now under construction at Lynchburg. A short time ago he secured an appropriation for the building, but the government authorities believe that $25,000 more is necessary at this time because of additional space made necessary by the parcel post.

Doctors Meet To-Night.

VICTORIA LOUISE ENGAGED TO WED

Daughter of Kaiser Will Marries Prince Ernst August, Son of Duke of Cumberland.

Berlin, February 10.—The official Reichs Anzeiger in an extra edition this morning announces the engagement of Princess Victoria Louise, daughter of the German Emperor, and Prince Ernst August, son of the Duke of Cumberland. The marriage is expected to result in a reconciliation between the royal houses of Hohenzollern and Cumberland. The announcement came after the Emperor's sudden and unexpected departure yesterday evening for Karlsruhe. He was accompanied by the German Empress, the Princess Victoria Louise and his fifth son, Prince Oscar. The Duke of Cumberland and his son left Gmund for Karlsruhe last night. The Emperor broke an important engagement in Berlin to make the trip to Karlsruhe. The fact that he was accompanied only by members of the imperial family was promptly interpreted as meaning that the journey was connected with a strictly family matter. It is assumed that the proposed marriage will solve the question of the succession to the throne of Brunswick, the Emperor waiving his objections to the Duke of Cumberland's succession. The Duke of Cumberland is now regent by Duke Johann Albrecht of Mecklenburg, uncle of the crown prince.

BLOODY BATTLE IN COAL FIELDS

ordered to the strike district by Governor Glasscock early to-night, two from this city reached their destination at 9:45 o'clock. The three companies from Huntington, W. Va., are expected before midnight. To-night a sixth company was ordered to proceed from Fayetteville for Mucklow. Only meagre details of the battle today have reached here. Exact conditions in the strike country are not known, as communication is crippled as a result of the cutting of wires. The strike district is isolated in the mountains, and travel is difficult. Martial law went into effect with the arrival of the Charleston troops.

PROBING STILL DEEPER

Committee Will Examine Into Activities of Officers.
Washington, February 10.—An investigation into campaign activities of the last administration, with particular reference to alleged assessments upon officeholders, will be started tomorrow by the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures. Thomas J. Camp, postmaster at Beebe, Ark., and Gordon Campbell, of Little Rock, connected with the Republican State Central Committee, will be the first witnesses. The hearing will be the first under the new authority given by the Senate in the investigation of campaign contributions and expenditures during the period between the nominating conventions and the general election. The summoning of Postmaster Camp resulted, it is understood, from alleged statements that he had been solicited for a contribution to the Taft campaign funds and had received intimations that the payment of the assessment was a part of his political duties.

MADERO EXPECTS TO DEFEAT DIAZ

ness of Diaz, a weakness which will result in his being crushed or starved into submission. Diaz with superior artillery, should be able to resist any attack now. Peace Negotiations Under Way. That peace negotiations, official and otherwise, were in progress to-day became known early, but owing to secrecy enveloping them, few outside the principals knew the details. Excellent order prevails throughout the city, despite the absence of police and the almost negligible number of small patrols. All the houses remained closed throughout the day, and in the afternoon most of the shops had heavy wooden shutters, concealing the glass fronts. The streets are deserted. The street car company, sharing the fear of shopkeepers and bankers, that riots might break out, has refused to resume traffic, and cabmen are reaping a harvest. Rioting at any moment would cause no surprise, yet serious disorders are not regarded as probable until one side or the other has won a more decided advantage. The lower elements which make up these mobs require a rallying cry, and at present they have doubt as to which man they should proclaim the popular idol.

Rebels and Federals Await Outcome.
El Paso, Tex., February 10.—An armistice practically exists between the Mexican Federal and rebel forces in northern Mexico pending settlement of the Mexico City situation. This is admitted by rebel agents here and Federal commanders in Chihuahua State.

Assurances that American lives and property would be protected in the districts under his charge came to-day from General Antonio Rabago, chief of the northern military zone, with headquarters at Chihuahua City. The message was transmitted to Washington by way of Consul Thomas Edwards. General Rabago recommends that order be kept by all troops in the zone with especial emphasis on the safety of foreigners until some solution is reached in the political situation caused by the Mexican revolution. The attitude of Federal army officers is one of reserve and defense of any government that may be generally recognized throughout the republic. Rebel representatives along the border are equally confident that no disorders will occur, declaring the revolution has triumphed through the mutiny at the national capital. The local Federalists also, it is expected, will remain in their positions pending developments.

Asks Recognition of Northern Rebels.
Manuel Lujan, former rebel representative at Washington, to-day telegraphed General Felix Diaz, asking recognition of the northern revolutionists. He asked that General Pascual Orozco, Jr., whose whereabouts remain in doubt, be recognized as commander-in-chief, with General Jose Inez Salazar, as acting commander. No change has been made in the United States Army border patrol, under command of General E. Z. Steever. Federalists also, it is expected, will remain in their positions pending developments.

Rebel Agents Said to Hold a Strict Censorship over the Mexico City Telegraph Offices.
All is reported quiet in the district below the border, rebels remain in control of most of the rural territory, and large bands are occupying the American border settlements in the Casas Grandes district, along the Mexican Northwestern Railway, which remains out of commission. Traffic on the Mexican Central line is not interrupted by rebel activity, and the telegraph lines operate as usual.

DEATH OVERTAKES FAMOUS EXPLORER

the Antarctic region. The date of Captain Scott's attainment of the South Pole, January 18, 1912, shows that he reached the goal of his expedition almost exactly one month after Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, sent to King Haakon of Norway, read: "Pole attained 14th-17th December, 1911. All well."

Success Not Known Till After Death.
The report of Captain Scott was destined not to be received by the waiting world until after his death. No details had come to hand to-day as to how the records of Captain Scott were found, but that he arrived at the pole on that date mentioned was definitely known.

Mrs. Scott, now tragically the widow of the British Antarctic explorer, though she is yet probably unaware of his fate, sailed from San Francisco, February 3, for New Zealand, expecting to meet her husband there. Just before her departure she said in an interview that she had not heard from him in eighteen months, but was confident that he would reach New Zealand safely.

Mrs. Scott sailed on the Aorangi, whose first port of call is Papetiti, Tahiti. As there is no cable to that point, and as the ship will not touch at any cable point until she reaches the antipodes, it is improbable that Mrs. Scott will learn of her husband's death until she reaches New Zealand, although efforts are being made to reach the Aorangi by wireless. The expedition under Captain Scott was the best equipped that had ever been assembled for such an adventure. It sailed from Port Chalmers, near Christchurch, New Zealand, on November 29, 1910.

Camara, February 10.—Captain Scott's party reached the exact point where Roald Amundsen planted the Norwegian flag at the South Pole. They found there the hut constructed and left behind by Amundsen's party.

These facts were recorded in the documents found on the bodies of the dead explorers when they were recovered. The news of the appalling disaster which befell Captain Scott and his companions was brought to this port by a signaled message from the Terra Nova, the vessel which had carried the explorer and his expedition to the Antarctic, and which late last year went once again to the South to bring him and his companions back.

KILLS TWO, THEN HIMSELF.

Negro Frenzied With Religious Fanaticism.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Staunton, Va., February 10.—A triple tragedy occurred near here at Sampson at an early hour this morning, in which three persons are dead and a fourth is in a dying condition. All parties concerned are negroes. William Campbell, his wife and mother-in-law, Hollis Baker, lived together, and with their young son, Glen Baker, and his wife, Lena. The family became involved in a religious dispute Sunday night, and when the early morning hours of Monday, when at 2 o'clock William Campbell became frenzied with religious fanaticism, and drawing a revolver shot his wife. This wife was not fatal, and she fled upstairs, taking refuge with her mother in an upper chamber. Campbell pursued her, and this time shot her dead. He then shot his mother-in-law. Glen Baker, who was sleeping in a room with his father, sprang from his bed and took to the woods, thus escaping, but his wife, who was sleeping in a room with her father, was killed by the bullet. Campbell, being in a dying condition, Campbell, placing the revolver in his pocket, crawled in a bed, and in a last embrace, and with his dying breath, he blew out the smoking revolver in his temple, and blew out his brains.

Building Permits.
Building and repair permits were issued yesterday for the following: H. H. Melton, to erect one brick tenement and three detached two-story brick houses, corner of Third and Fourth streets, to cost $23,850. T. M. Harrington, to erect a one-story frame storage plant on the west side of Third and Fourth streets, to cost $800.

City Sues County.
Lynchburg Appeals from Decision on Payment for Upkeep of Bridge.
A writ of error was allowed by the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of Lynchburg in its suit against the County of Amherst. It seems neither side was satisfied with the judgment of the Circuit Court of Amherst, which awarded the city the sum of $27,000 for repairs made to the bridge across the James at Lynchburg, owned jointly by the city and county. The city claimed $27,000; the county's half of the expense.

"Distinctively Individual"

London, February 10.—Severe fighting has occurred in the attempt of the Montenegrins to capture Scutari, in the Turkish-Balkan war. The Montenegrins are reported to have taken Bardanj hill, one of the strategic positions, but at a cost of 2,500 men killed or wounded. The same dispatches place the Turkish loss at 4,000 men.

Thousands of fresh troops have been arriving at Constantinople from Anatolia, and in the past few days several troop ships have departed, but their destination has not been divulged. There are signs that the Porte realizes the hopelessness of the situation and is preparing the way to leave the fate of Turkey in the hands of Europe to obtain the best possible settlement. Although it is officially denied that Haki Pasha has been sent on a peace mission to London, there is little doubt that this is his object.

Farmer Suffers Heavy Loss.
Winchester, Va., February 10.—Fire believed to be of incendiary origin this morning destroyed a large barn on the farm of Hugh A. Funk, near Stephens City, and all contents, including five horses, three mules, three cows, a silo, carriage, implements, harness, hay and other food, causing a loss of $4,000, with one-third insurance.

Resolutions in Congress.
Three resolutions were introduced in Congress during the day regarding the Mexican situation. Senator Martin and Representative Hamill, of New Jersey, introduced in their respective houses a similar resolution directing the administration of the House of Representatives to inform the House what steps, if any, have been taken "to protect the lives and property of American citizens in the Republic of Mexico."

These measures were referred to the Foreign Relations and Foreign Affairs Committees of the two houses. Representative Hamill conferred to-day with colleagues who have extensive knowledge of Mexican conditions and will speak on the Mexican situation in the House probably Wednesday, pointing out the immense injury to American interests sustained in Mexico during the recent revolts.

Look into this, Mr. Cassidy

That old-fashioned book ledger of yours—have you ever stopped to think how much lost time and waste motion it causes? Do so! And get a shock.

Two-thirds of your time is spent in finding the place to make the entry; one-third in making the entry.

With L. B. Card Ledgers you can cut the finding time in two.

Any good bookkeeper—and you are that—can do nearly as much work in six hours with L. B. Card Ledgers as in eight hours with book ledgers.

L. B. Card Ledgers are flexible. Unlike loose-leaf ledgers, they expand or contract readily. They're compact. They're safe—postings are so easily proved that a bookkeeper is foolish not to prove daily. Then his trial balance is a cinch. They're more easily handled than loose-leaf ledgers, and cost less.

Call at our office, Mr. Cassidy, and let us SHOW you.

Remember! Nearly a third of the time saved! Flexible! Compact! Safe! Easily handled! Inexpensive!
